THUG, WITH CLUB, ROBS TOLL BRIDGE TENDER SATURDAY

Ordered Victim to "Make It Snappy" and Got
About $40.

"Give me all the money there's in this place. Now it's snappy. I'm in a hurry," said a lone bandit Saturday night to John Brewster, tollkeeper on the Clinton and Illinois bridge between Clinton and Fulton.

The bandit carried a heavy club,
with which he threatened to knock off Mr. Brewster's head if he "made a fuss."

He got about $40 and made his escape.

Has Unpleasant Caller

It was about a quarter to eleven Saturday night when Mr. Brewster had his unpleasant caller.

The man with the club bobbed in unexpectedly. The bridge man was sitting in his chair, with his feet resting up on the stove when the fellow came in.

When the bandit ordered Mr.
Brewster to hand over his money, the latter thought it was a joke. Pretty soon, however, he saw that the fellow was very much in earnest. He handed the club as though he would like to use it.

So the toll man sat up, took what money he carried out of his pocket and handed it over.

Makes Clean Sweep

This didn't satisfy the visitor.

"What's in the box?" he asked,
pointing to the cash register.

"I can't open it. I haven't got the key," Mr. Brewster said.

"You open it quick. I'm in a hurry," threatened the fellow, whereupon the toll man was forced to open the register and turn the money over.

Then the fellow searched Mr.
Brewster's pockets thoroughly. He made no attempt to take his watch.

"Now keep quiet" was his parting admonition. "If you give the alarm I'll come back and knock your head off."

Then he backed out of the door and ran down the bridge incline, disappearing in the darkness. Mr. Brewster was unable to say in what direction he went after leaving the bridge.

It is thought, however, that he was over in the direction of the Northwestern depot, and probably caught a train out of the city.

Give Police Alarm

The bandit's threat didn't keep Mr.
Brewster quiet. He telephoned immediately to the police station, and gave the police a description of the thief.
A squad of officers hurried down and searched vainly about the bridge, depot and yards for the hold-up man.
No trace of him could be found.

A piece of heavy gas-pipe about two feet in length was found Sunday morning on the bridge platform outside the toll house. It is thought the bandit had carried this as a weapon in the intention of using it if he found it necessary. Apparently he didn't have a gun. The heavy club was all he had in his hand. Mr.
Brewster says, when he entered the toll house.

Bandit "Good Looking"

Mr. Brewster describes his Saturday night visitor as "rather good looking."
He says he was young, probably under 30 years of age, about five feet six inches in height and weighed from 165 to 170 pounds. He wore a dark brown overcoat and light gray
cap. He had a smooth face, and seemed to be of rather light complexion.
He wore no mask or covering of any kind, and was a stranger to his victim who said, however, that he could identify the fellow easily if he saw him again,
as he had a good look at him.

Operate on Son of Rich Sweat to Restore Memory

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, March 3.—An operation
will be performed today on Nils Fischer, son of one of Sweden's wealthiest men, that will restore the memory of his father lost December.

After wandering for weeks while police of many cities sought him, he recalled who he was when he saw his picture on a circular in the Bowery Saturday. Nearly $100,000 had been spent in search for him.

Fischer, who is 22 and a civil engineer, came to this country 18 months ago to study American production methods. He disappeared while he was on his way here from Chicago.
His father is Dallas Fischer of Stockholm, manufacturer of machinery.

Gen. Pershing in Cuba.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Havana, Cuba, March 3.—General
J. P. Pershing and party with American Ambassador Crowder, Cuban government and other members of honor, left Santiago yesterday for Havana, according to dispatches.

The dispatches said General Pershing telephoned the Vedado Tennis Club in Havana accepting the offer of a banquet in his honor.

Interrogated about the Isle of Pines question, the General said it was his personal opinion the treaty would be passed and Cuba had rights to the island.

Mine Closed, Illinois
Town is Officially Dead

Bloomington, Ill., Mar. 3.—The C.
& F. mine at South Wilmington was closed yesterday, marking the last shaft on the north end of the Chicago & Alton main line.

This once thriving town of 1400 inhabitants is now officially dead and will soon become memory.

It marked the last mining in a bituminous coal field which was the richest and most productive in Illinois thirty
years ago.

Denver Doctor Says if He Killed Daughter He Has No Recollection

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Denver, Colo., Mar. 3.—"If I killed my daughter, I did wrong."

This qualified confession came from Dr. Harold E. Blazer last night in the first statement he has made since his daughter Hazel was found dead a week ago.

"If I did kill her I have no recollection of it," he said.

Authorities said the girl had been suffering from chloroform delirium. Dr. Blazer said a warrant charging first degree murder
would be served today.

Twice the father has attempted suicide while held.

PEKIN MURDER CASE MAY END DURING WEEK

Youth is On Trial for Alleged Murder of His Sweetheart.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Pekin, Ill., March 3.—Inquest on the trial of Fred Lichtenberger, 28, for the alleged murder of his sweetheart, Mary Eltemiller, 20, has become so long that spectators are taking their lunches to the court room so they will not lose their seats.

An alleged death note found in a pocket puff in Mary's coat pocket has been excluded from the evidence on objection of the defense. The note, which was not dated, is the sensation of trial and prosecution sought to introduce it as evidence that Lichen-berger had intended to kill either the girl or her father. The state's attorney in his opening statement said the note was written by the girl when Lichtenberger left the couple when the couple spent two days and nights riding around the country trying to solve their love problem before the tragedy. It was brought out that the note was not found until fifteen days
after the shooting and that the coat hung in a clothes closet that was not locked.

The trial is expected to continue until Saturday or later. The defense is that the girl shot herself and Lichtenberger and that he never knowingly fired a shot. Lichtenber-ger's confession was that he shot the girl at her request and then attempted suicide. After the girl died, he changed the confession, claiming that she shot himself and he then fired
a bullet into his head.

Vice President-Elect Confers With Coolidge

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, Mar. 3—Charles G.
Dawes, vice president-elect, here to take the oath of office tomorrow, called upon President Coolidge today for the pre-inauguration conference, which is customary between the leaders of an incoming administration.

General Dawes first called at the White House press wires he was closed with Mr. Coolidge for a considerable time and later the two went to the executive offices together.

In high spirits, General Dawes exchanged banter with Senators Edge, republican, New Jersey, and Ship-stead, farmer-labor, Minnesota, when he came out of the President's office.
His subject was the duties he is to assume as presiding officer of the commission.

President Coolidge after the visit of Mr. Dawes, was immediately absorbed in the heavy routine of business in incident upon termination of the com-messional session.

Citizens Jury Begins to Review Salacious Plays

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, Mar. 3.—Appeal to the citizen play jury plan for reviewing salacious theatrical productions begins today. Preliminary verdicts on some of the twelve plays complained of are expected by the end of the week.

Managers will be unaware that their plays have been tried until they receive notification to reconstruct their productions or to withdraw them.

After all jurors have witnessed a play, it is decided by a 9 to 3 vote to "cut" whole objectionable from the point of view of public morals;
it will be ordered withdrawn. If only parts of the play are condemned, the manager will be notified to rewrite, the expurgated version then will be reviewed and a final verdict rendered.

Representative Strong, republican,
Kings, is a separate minority reporter, found no basis for the majority and their staffs and less than 10,000 soldiers, sailors and marines assembled from posts nearby.

Naval Lieutenant to Appeal Case to Courts

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Napa, Calif., March 3.—Appeal to the federal courts will be made in the case of Lieut. Frank E. Kennedy, U.
S. N., who yesterday was denied a writ of habeas corpus seeking his release from the state hospital for the insane. Thomas L. Lewis, counsel for the habeas corpus, said he would call the executive offices together.

Lieut. Kennedy was committed to the asylum by naval authorities for observation after alleged insubordination
and improper conduct on duty in the Orient.

Springfield — Persons wishing to adopt children from orphanages in Illinois must serve as temporary parents for six month probationary period, under a new rule adopted by the state department of public welfare

which became effective March 1.

Under the ruling the children will be visited by a state inspector at the time the application to adopt the child is made. Another visit will be made three months after the child is placed in the home and the third visit just prior to the formal adoption to make sure that conditions in the home are such as would benefit the child.

Probable Rain May Mar Inauguration Ceremony

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, Mar. 3.—Probable rain inauguration day is predicted for Washington by the weather bureau.

The forecasters will not venture a prediction as to the time the showers
may begin or whether the ceremonies on the capital plaza will be out of way in time to escape.

The rains which are expected are part of a general precipitation over the Ohio Valley, the lower lake region and the middle Atlantic and north Atlantic states.

Wisconsin—Mostly overcast to rain or snow in north and warmer
in southeast portion Wednesday.

Chicago and Vicinity—Partly overcast tonight and Wednesday, warmer

and most productive in Illinois thirty
years ago.

DOORS OF DIXON AUTO SHOW OPEN THURSDAY AT 3

Will Be Bigger and Better Than Any Attempted ed Here.

Dixon's third annual Automobile Show is growing bigger every day and the public will have the opportunity of viewing the latest of automobiles, tires and accessories. There are constantly being made many changes and improvements in the automobile world and it is only through Dixon's automobile show that the people in this vicinity have the opportunity of viewing these changes and improvements.
Every one is interested in motor transportation and even though they are not contemplating buying a new car, they like to see the beautiful displays and compare the various models.

The big crew in charge of decorating the building are working overtime
putting the finishing touches

here and there and when the show opens Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock the public will wonder how such a show could be presented in such a short time.

The beautiful overhead
decorations and the lighting effects together with the more modest and elegant give a striking impression.
One must really see to really enjoy and appreciate the beauty of a show of this kind.

The doors of the show will open
Thursday afternoon in Horton Motor Service Garage and continue open until 11 o'clock at night. The big show will continue throughout the week.
Various forms of entertainment have been provided and two of the best orchestras in Northern Illinois have been secured.

The Goddess of Supplies has an unusual

Wall Street Review

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, March 3.—Stocks continued to move ahead at the opening of today's market, with the stimulus

by investment buying of influential rals and industrials. Oils seemed further gains on predictions of an early increase in prices and a good demand

was noted for equipments and motors.

Bullish demonstrations. In many issues were accompanied by reports of larger dividend distributions to stockholders of leading industrial corporations. American Can, after opening a half point lower, shot up 2 points to a new record at 1834 and had a fresh flood or buying for U. S. Cast Iron

Pipe lifted that stock 9½ points to 24½. Among the many issues to sell 1 to 2 points above last night's close

were: Allis-Chalmers, Locomotive, Mack

Trucks, See, Rockwell, etc. The Pan-

American issues, the latter being added by talk of a heavy buying of Mexican Petroleum. Heavy buying of Atlantic Coast Line, which rose 3½ points featured trade in the rails. For-ign exchanges opened steady.

The violence of the advance coupled with the maintenance of the 4½ per cent renewal rate for call money led to considerable profit taking around the end of the first hour. U. S. Cast

Iron Pipe fell 5 points from its top and Ludlum Steel, the recent strength of which has been based on important developments concerning its silicrete steels, which yielded 2½%. Previously gains of 3 to 4 points had been recorded by American Car &amp; Fly. Mack

Trucks, General Electric and Locomotives. Efforts were made to steady

the list around noon by bidding up certain western rails, particularly

Northern Pacific, Great

Western and Chicago &amp; Northwestern.

Trading was in large volume, sales in the first hour exceeding half a million shares.

It is true that the expression "Hell is paved with good intentions" appears in Boswell's "Life of Johnson" as coming from that scholar. But it was a proverb in Germany centuries before the time of Samuel Johnson. It also appears, in various forms, in the literature of France, Italy and Portugal written during the Middle ages—Pathfinder Magazine.

ANCIENT PROVERB— HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS— On Asparagus.

Use tomato sauce instead of white sauce over canned asparagus occasionally. It is delicious.

Keep Onion Out.

Never put a cut onion in the same compartment of the refrigerator containing butter or milk.

Soup Vegetables.

Vegetables used only for flavoring soup may remain in the broth all the time it is cooking. If they are to be diced in the soup they should be put in only in time to be thoroughly cooked.

Old Soup Stock.

Soup stock should never be kept for more than two days without being reboiled.

Turpentine Helps.

A tablespoon of turpentine in a quart of water applied to plants once a week will make the leaves very green and keep the plant looking vigorous and healthy.

Veal Takes Longer.

A piece of veal requires a longer time for cooking than beef or mutton of the same size.

Butter in Fowl.

Butter should be put inside a fowl as well as outside when it is being baked.

Older Sportsman.

If you will add grated plain or pimento cheese to creamed vegetables you will achieve a flavor that is quite original and different.

Second Banquet Enjoyable Affair

The second annual Fathers and Sons banquet at the Christian church last evening far outshone the initial similar affair of a year ago in attendance, enthusiasm and program. At 6:15 as the dads and boys gathered, the combined orchestras of the Bible school rendered a very fine program in the church auditorium. At 7 o'clock the big dinner room in the basement of the church filled rapidly and a sumptuous banquet was served by the Ladies' Aid of the church, which was followed by the program.

Rev. C. G. Kindred of Chicago, always a favorite with Dixon audiences, was the speaker of the evening and his talk was greatly enjoyed. He told of the rapid changes which the world is undergoing and related some of his experiences in his recent tour of southern Europe. The feature of the program was the "How Do You Do" song which was given by a male quartette, composed of Messrs. Tice, Seyster, Dwelle and Johnson. Harry W. Smith told "How Farter Feels" representing the elders, and was followed by Robert Smits, who very cleverly explained, "As a Son Sees It." David Frye also gave a short and interesting talk.

Cyrena VanGordon Here March 19th

Miss Cyrena Van Gordon, dramatic mezzo-soprano with the Chicago Civic Opera Company, is not only one of the most gifted grand opera singers, but she is considered by many the most beautiful woman among opera artists.

Miss Van Gordon is scheduled to appear in concert recital here March 19, under the auspices of Civic Music Association. Exceptionally tall, with jet black hair and beautiful coloring, Miss Van Gordon is queenly and magnificent in her bearing. Her personality and charm of manner instantly go over the footlights to her audiences who find in her no flaw.

Miss Van Gordon is especially adapted, both by voice and manner, to roles in the repertoire of Wagner and Verdi. Her great bearing as Amneris in "Aida," together with her beautiful and statuesque Brunhilde in "The Valkyrie" two of her favorite roles, attest the power which youth, beauty and vocal talent hold for lovers of good music.

As a concert artist she has won an enviable place in the very front ranks. Her concert tours are always eagerly awaited by enthusiastic audiences.

Aid Remembers Wedding Anniversary

On Monday, March 2nd, occurred the thirteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Guynn, and according to the custom of the past year, the members of the Kingdom, Mt. Union Aid Society, and several invited guests, called at their home, 613 Ottawa avenue, and reminded them of the event.

A mock wedding was a laughable feature of the afternoon. The bride of thirteen years ago, wore her wedding dress, her lace veil being draped gracefully from a bandole of pink blossoms; the same day she had a layer of apples and then one of bananas. Sprinkle with sugar and dot with bits of butter. Cover lightly with crumbs and repeat layer for layer of the fruit and seasoning. Cover the last layer of fruit with crumbs and pour over the boiling water. Cover dish and bake 30 minutes in a hot oven. Remove cover and bake 10 minutes longer.

Baked Calf's Heart.

One calf's heart, 1/2 pound lean meat, 3 slices bacon, 4 tablespoons stale bread crumbs, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1/2 teaspoon minced onion, 2 eggs, salt and pepper.

Wash heart through several waters and remove veins and arteries. Let stand in cold water for 10 minutes. Drain and dry. Put veal and bacon through the fine knife of the food chopper several times. Mix with bread crumbs, salt, pepper, parsley, onion and eggs. Fill heart with forcemeat and sew. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, roll in flour and brown quickly in a hot frying pan. Put in a deep casserole, half-cover with boiling water, cover tightly and cook two hours in a slow oven. Add more water if necessary to prevent burning. Make a gravy with liquor in casserole and pour over heart on a hot deep platter when done.

The potatoes, carrot timbales and cottage pudding use the oven heat and make the use of an open flame unnecessary.

PEOPLE CLOSING EYES TO FACT OF SIN, SAYS DOCTOR

Evangelist in Strong Sermon at Baptist Revival Service.

(By L. D. Lamkin)

Did you say that Monday night is always a blue night? It wasn't so at the revival meetings at the Baptist church last night. The splendid congregation was a tribute to the real interest and power of the meetings. The singing was fine, but the sermon is always the center of interest. It was especially so last night, Dr. Dunk seemed to outdo himself.

Those who are not in touch with the meetings can not realize the many good and inspiring messages they are missing.

Each message seems the best yet. The evangelist has no fads. Nor has he any claptrap methods. He is a sane and straightforward gospel preacher, and that is more than can be said of most evangelists. His singing is superb and his messages come with power. While his sermons are well prepared he is untrampled by manuscript when he delivers them. The membership of the church should take advantage of these meetings for they are a rare spiritual treat. The subject last night was "The Touch of Faith." It was a great message. The following are a few of the splendid thoughts:

"People today are closing their eyes to the plain fact of sin. Many are treating the church and the gospel of Christ with a silent contempt. Judging from the way people live one would suppose that the church is quite unnecessary. Christianity is no longer a subject of inquiry but by many something to be scoffed at. Many will not listen or respond to anything that seems to interfere with their pleasure in the world. Sin is a withering, blighting, soul-destroying disease. Man has treated sin as though it does not exist, and when he does admit sin to be a fact he often seeks ways to cover up his transgressions. A man sooner or later will reap what he sows. There is only one true gospel for sin, the gospel of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. It was not the hem of the garment that cured the woman who touched him, it is the Christ inside the garment. A creed cannot save anyone, but a vital faith in the Son of God can. When that woman touched Jesus she knew it, no one can come into contact with Jesus and not know it. Jesus also knew when the woman touched him, and he knew whether you are living in vital faith and contact with him or not. There is only one way to touch Jesus savingly, it is by faith. There is only one place to touch him, it is at the cross where he died for you. There is only one time to touch him, it is now."

The service tonight will commence at 7:30. If you value your Christian life or put any estimate on your Christian work you can not afford to miss a single service. They grow in interest and power each day. Come tonight.

(Editorial by Senator Boyd in answer to Senator Boyd's letter in part)

Questions asked by Senator Boyd in his letter were as follows:

"What are the rights or powers granted to public utilities under the Public Utilities Act on the following points: (1) To enter private property, without notice to owner, destroy crops or other property, in making surveys; (2) Is the question of damages to private property, for rights of way, to be determined solely by agreement between parties concerned, or in the courts, or can such questions be heard by the Illinois Commerce Commission? (3) In determining damages, in the courts, for rights of way, are the costs other than attorney's fees, borne by the utilities or the property owner?"

BUILDING.

Latest figures would indicate a need for revision of the old theory that the war was entirely responsible for the building shortage. Steady increase each year since 1919 in construction totals is evidence that the normal standard of building activity, which before the war was about one billion dollars annually, has been raised permanently.

Continued population drift from farms to cities is no doubt partly accountable. City population, too, has come to demand a higher standard of housing.

Projects for construction work filed last year represent an expenditure of three and a half billions, a slight increase over the year preceding, and only a fraction of 1923's increase over 1922.

Indications, therefore, are that the peak has been reached and that 1925 will witness a slight slump.

SMOKERS, BE CAREFUL.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters reports that a home fire occurs in the United States every four minutes. In Illinois the causes of the greatest fire loss in 1923 were matches and smoking. The fire loss in the state by these alone was just under two million dollars. Matches and smoking caused a loss of three millions in Massachusetts and of four millions in New York, two millions in Pennsylvania, a million and a half each in Ohio and New Jersey, one million in Minnesota, one million and a half in California, half a million in Connecticut, half a million in Nebraska, and lesser losses in other states in which matches and smoking were not the principal causes of fire. It's all right for smokers to burn up tobacco, but they should be careful not to sacrifice so much other property.

WRONG.

History enshrines too many Alexanders, Napoleons, Saessars and Wellingtons and too few of our great humanitarians. Take, for instance, the long list of medical heroes. How many know that—

Edward Jenner discovered the value of cowpox in preventing smallpox?

Louis Pasteur laid the foundation for modern bacteriology and showed how rabies can be prevented?

Emil von Behring discovered the antitoxin of diphtheria? Charles Louis Alphonse Laveran discovered the parasite of malaria?

Who contributed most to mankind—the warriors or the "medics"?

DOCTORS.

Congress is juggling with the postal pay increase bill so that it is difficult to predict what the outcome will be. First the senate passed a bill. The house protested that it was an appropriation bill, and that the senate had no right to originate it. So the house rejected the senate bill and adopted one of its own. Now the senate has rejected the house bill and has substituted its own original bill in its place. How are the two houses to get together? That's what's worrying the postal service people.

Illinois legislators are proposing to pass the buck on the child-labor amendment on to the people? Just one more little thing to make the ballot longer. If legislators do not want to declare themselves, why not forget the matter altogether? The amendment is defeated already. Other states attended to that.

SCHAEFER HAS BEST CHANCE TO CAPTURE TITLE

Hoppe Again Beaten,
Second Time By
Horemans.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, March 3—Young Jake Schaefer, who in 1921 won the 18.2 balkline championship from Willie Hoppe, has the best chance to take the title in the international tournament here.

Hoppe, the champion, relaxed his grasp on his honors last night when he was beaten by Edward Horemans, Belgian champion 400 to 36 in seven innings. It was his second defeat.

The Belgian led Hoppe throughout, the champion never having the balls under control until the sixth inning, when he ran 21, his high for the evening. Horeman opened with a 61, added 121 in the fourth, made 6 in intervening innings and went out with a high run of 212.

Schaefer advanced his title claim in an earlier contest by making Suzuki the Japanese, the victim of his 4th victory 40 to 17.

Young Jake and Hoppe meet tonight. If he wins, the title is his. If he loses he will be tied for the title with the winner of the Horeman-Hagenlacher match of the afternoon.

The standings:

Won Lost Grand Ave.
Schaefer ... 4 0 55 7-27
Hagenlacher ... 8 1 29 49-58
Horemans ... 3 1 * 43 25-33
Hoppe ... 2 2 27 1-42
Cochran ... 1 4 28 2-41
Suzuki ... 0 5 15 3-62

Richards Has Chance to

Dislodge Champ, Tilden

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, Mar. 3—Until last season experts who had predicted annually that Vincent Richards would break through to the top had the heaped high real cause for satisfaction. Richards leaped forward in 1924 with such startling strides that he dislodged "Little Bill" Johnston from the number two ranking position.

This year he stands out as the one player having the best chance of threatening Tilden's five year reign.

In 1924 Richards was defeated by two Belgian Frenchmen, but the ultimate victor in the Wimbledon championships, but captured the Olympic singles crown and also took the doubles paired with Frank Huntner.

Returning to this country, Richards rose to great heights in the national singles at Forest Hills, fighting Tilden to a standstill.

Most of Richards' progress has been linked with the influence of the present national champion. His first national triumph came in 1917 when a youth of 14, he won the boys championship. A year later he won the national turf court doubles with Tilden, a victory repeated in 1921 and 1922. In 1919 Richards defeated his mentor to win the national indoor title. He has held the same title over the past two years.

A Persistent Cough

Everybody knows how foolish and dangerous it is to let a cough hang on and on. The proper thing to do is to stop it—quick—and for this purpose there is nothing better than that great old home remedy that our parents and grandparents used so successfully—Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. It often relieves a severe cough overnight. Doctors say there is really nothing like pine tar to quickly loosen and remove the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing, while the honey not only gives a pleasant taste but helps soothe soreness and irritation. But be sure you get the genuine Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. It is the original. Dr. Bell's is the original, and has been known for many years as the best. It is scientifically compounded of just the right proportions of pine tar, honey, and other ingredients, which the best doctors have found to aid in bringing quick relief. Contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, so can be given even to young children. It is the only cough remedy you want the best home remedy in the drug store, get Dr. Bell's. See it good drugstore.

MANY PROMINENT MEN RETIRE FROM
CAPITOL THIS WEEKInauguration to Mean Less
to Coolidge Than
to Many.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, Mar. 3—President Coolidge will go to the Capitol to take the oath of office on Wednesday afternoon, and the manifold activities necessary to change the administration in Washington already are in full swing.

To Mr. Coolidge the program on March 4 will mean merely the dropping of the rug, so to speak, and carrying through the Harding-Coolidge administration, and the taking up of the presidency in his own right, but to many, including cabinet officers members of the Senate and House, and others it will mark their definite departure from the life of the Capitol.

In government departments, where new cabinet heads will take office, the work of getting up speedily is in progress, and so in the incoming secretary may find themselves with clean slate. Secretary Hughes, who on Wednesday will relinquish the helm at the State Department, is planning a vacation and the way is being prepared for the installation in his place of Frank B. Kellogg, ambassador to Great Britain.

Monday Harlan F. Stone, retiring Attorney General, went to the chamber of the Supreme Court to take the oath of the associate justice, and Howard M. Gore, secretary of agriculture, relinquished his post Wednesday to take over that of governor of West Virginia. With the exception of these three, no cabinet changes will take place.

No Capital Session

At the Capitol offices are being prepared to receive the new cabinet, but according to present indications he will not be called for duty in that capacity for many months except for a brief period in April when the Senate will meet to confirm nominations.

President Coolidge has indicated no intention of calling Congress into an extended extra session, and Washington faces the prospect of the usual summer recess.

The Chicago National camp at Catalina Island already has developed a casual. It is Arnold State whose right thumb has a big blister, not, however, as a result of diamond work but gold link embroidery.

Portions of the 37 Cubs and three former Pirates comprising Manager Killinger's crew has indicated that Barney Friberg seems to have completely recovered from the broken ankle received last year and will be in great shape from the start.

East St. Louis, Ill., Mar. 2—Federal Judge English of the eastern Illinois district today declined to comment when informed that a congressional investigation of his official conduct had been assured by Senate adoption of the House resolution providing for the inquiry. Scheduled for a statement, the judge declared he did not come to terms with the Philadelphia club and states he will not play this year unless his terms are met.

WHITE HOUSE FOR
COOLIDGE DIFFERS
FROM EARLIER ONESeveral Additions to Executive Mansion Made Recently.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, Mar. 3—Twenty-four hours more and Calvin Coolidge will step into the presidency of the United States in his own right. Of all those who have to do with the impressive ceremony which marks an inauguration President Coolidge himself is the one who is most concerned.

It is business as usual at the White House today: a cabinet session; a conference with the White House newspaper correspondents; the usual run of Congressional callers; tourists gathering for the inaugural ceremonies seeking a chance to shake hands with the President.

The President and Mrs. Coolidge are to be seated in the same room where Lincoln bade the trials and tribulations of a civil war.

But in the inaugural ceremonies of tomorrow there will be a striking reminder of the old White House as it was in the day of the first presidents.

It will be the simplicity and the economy and the lack of display with which President Coolidge has insisted upon his inauguration.

It will not be as simple as in the early years of the republic when Washington was only a village. But it will be as simple, if not more simple, than the inauguration of President Harding's in 1921.

Washington Never Lived There

George Washington laid the cornerstone of it in 1792 but never lived there. It was finished during the administration of John Adams in 1800.

But it is of no use. She is determined to go.

I am writing this to tell you that she will probably be with you on Monday morning. She heard from Mr. Prescott the first of the week and he told her that you were completely well again. She says she hasn't been in Atlantic City in a long time and this will be a good time to go over as she can stay with you until you go back to Pittsburgh.

Of course, I will come with her to tell you the truth, Mrs. Prescott. I do not think anyone but myself can tell you when these days.

I am very glad to know that you are getting along so splendidly and that your new son is in such a fine boy.

Please do not tell her I wrote this, for she is writing you a note.

Will you please tell Mr. Prescott to write his mother. His last letter did her a great deal of good, but she is beginning to feel neglected again.

I think that is one of the reasons she wants to come to you.

Sincerely,

JULIA ANDERSON.

BAREE, SON OF KAZAN

by James Oliver Curwood
A LOVE EPIC OF THE FAR NORTH

"BAREE, SON OF KAZAN," a Vitagraph Picture, With Wolf, the War Dog, is an Adaptation of This Story

SYNOPSIS

Baree was a son of Kazan and Gray Wolf, the latter the mother, a full-blooded wolf. Gray Wolf had lost her right in a fight with a bear. During the mothering-time she kept Kazan away from their offspring and it was a great day for Baree when he discovered his father. He was then eighteen days old. After that he ventured out from the windfall in which he had been, and, finding himself in the sunlight, had his first great adventure.

In a way Baree sensed this. He was not afraid of the owls. He was not afraid of the strange blood-curdling cries they made in the black spruce-tops. But once fear entered into him, and he scurried back to his mother. It was when one of the winged hunters of the air swooped down on a snowshoe rabbit, and the squealing agony of the doomed creature set his heart thumping like a little hammer. He felt in those cries the nearness of that one-ever-present tragedy of the wild—death.

This rabbit was the climax in the first chapter of Baree's education. It was as if Gray Wolf and Kazan had planned it all out, so that he might receive his first instruction in the art of killing.

The fact that Ohoomisew, the big snow-owl, had made her nest in a broken stub not far from the windfall was destined to change the whole course of Baree's life, just as the blinding of Gray Wolf had changed hers, and a man's club had changed Kazan's. The creek ran close past the stub, which had been shriven by lightning, and this stub stood in still, dark place in the forest, surrounded by tall, black spruce and enveloped in gloom even in broad day. Many times Baree had gone to the edge of this mysterious bit of forest and

The otter had not heard Baree.

"Papayuchisew started it, and with a single wild yelp Baree went back in a heap, the owl's beak fastened like a red-hot vise in the soft flesh at the end of his nose."

had peered in curiously, and with a growing desire.

He was fully three hundred yards from the windfall when he passed Ohoomisew's stub and into a thick growth of young balsams. And there—directly in his path—crunched the monster.

With a space of two feet between them, the pup and the owl eyed each other. In that moment, if Gray Wolf could have seen, she might have said to Baree: "Use your legs—and run!" And Ohoomisew, the old owl, might have said to Papayuchisew: "You little fool—use your wings and fly!"

They did neither—and the fight began.

Papayuchisew started it, and with a single wild yelp Baree went back in a heap, the owl's beak fastened like a red-hot vise in the soft flesh at the end of his nose. That one yelp of surprise and pain was Baree's first and last cry in the fight. The wolf surged in him, rage and desire to kill possessed him. As Papayuchisew hung on, he made a curious hissing sound; and as Baree rolled and gnashed his teeth and fought to free him self from that amazing grip on his nose, fierce little snarls rose out of his throat.

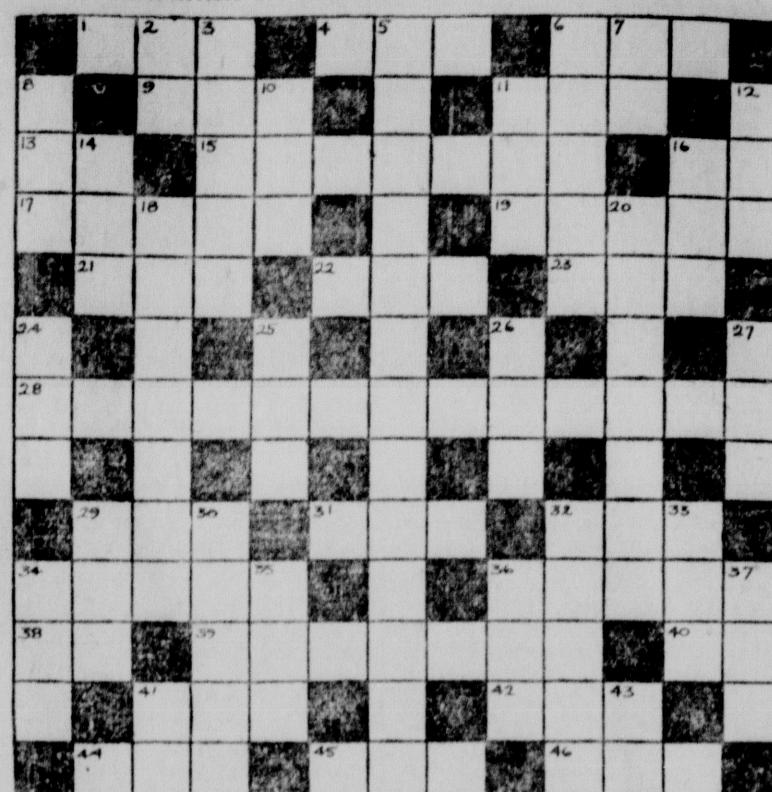

For fully a minute Baree had no use of his jaws. Then, by accident, he wedged Papayuchisew in a crutch of a low ground-shrub and a bit of his nose gave way. He might have run then, but instead of that he was back at the owl like a flash. Flop went Papayuchisew on his back, and Baree buried his needle-like teeth in the bird's breast. It was like trying to bite through a pillow, the feathers were so close and thick. Deeper and deeper Baree sank his fangs, and just as they were beginning to prick the owl's skin, Papayuchisew—jabbing a little blindly with a beak that snapped sharply every time it closed—got him by the ear.

The pain of that hold was excruciating to Baree, and he made a more desperate effort to get his teeth through his enemy's thick armor of feathers. In the struggle they rolled under the low balsams to the edge of the ravine, through which ran the creek. Over the green edge they plunged, and Olsen immediately negotiated the purchase of the ship and is converting it into a motor pleasure craft.

How to Talk

By PARSON JOHNSON
Consulting Editor New Universities Dictionary

Article No. 6

There are all kinds of dictionaries published nowadays—good, not so good, better, and best. Although a number of dictionaries had been published on the other side, the first one to be published on this side of the water came out something like a hundred years ago—The American Dictionary of the English Language, by Noah Webster.

He is quoted as saying at the time that he long had felt the need of such a work while reading books of science. Also be said that he wanted to correct what he called the "vicious" pronunciation of the day.

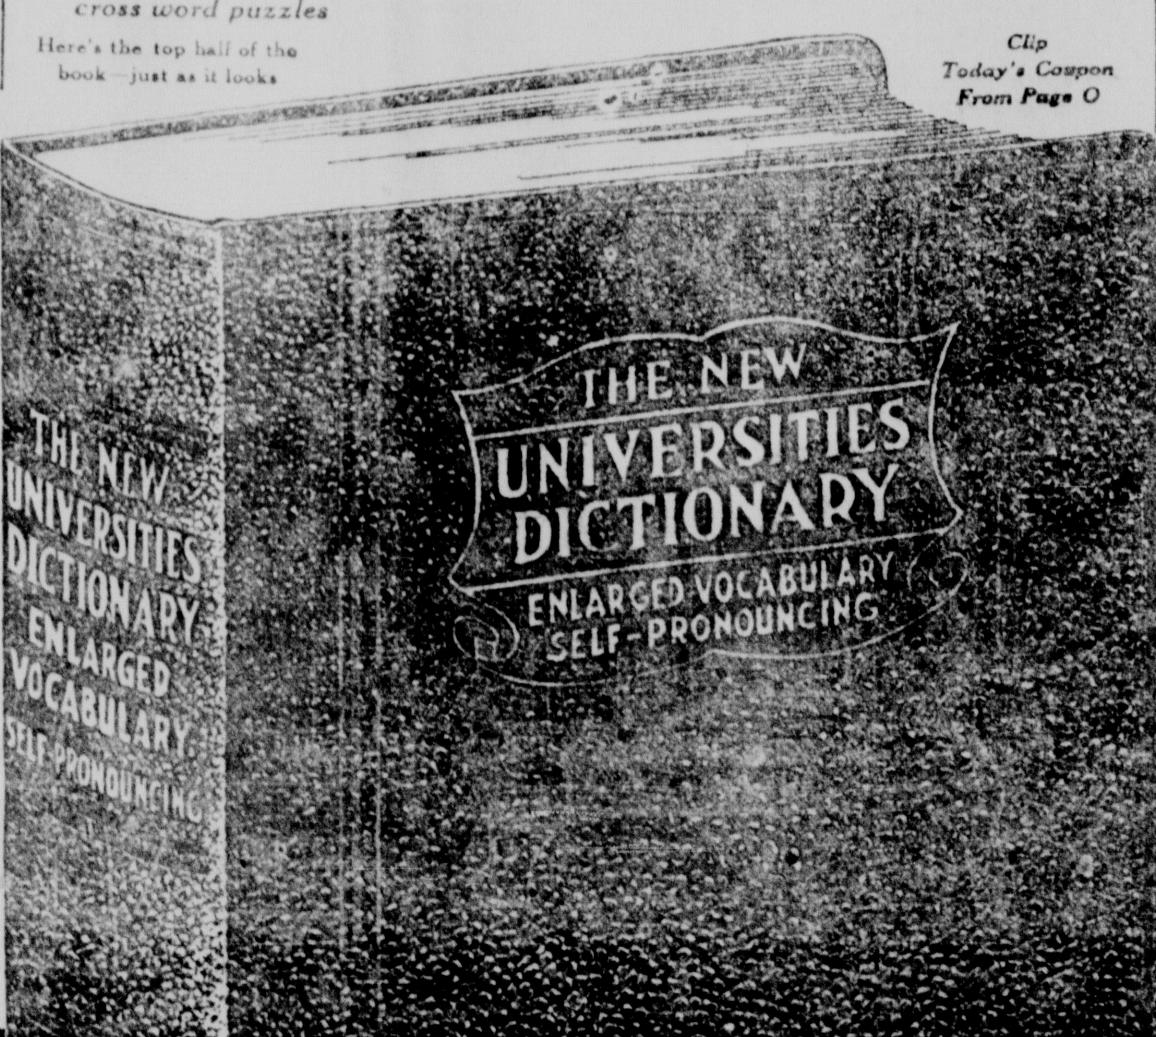

Mr. Webster very easily could find enough to keep him busy in that line right now. For we all seem to be careless about one thing or another—and surely we are more careless about our speech than anything else. Customarily a man will change his collar when it is soiled, but rarely will he change his way of talking. If he says "jist" for "just," or "git" for "get," he sticks to such "vicious" pronunciations like a fond mother to a lost child.

Should mispronunciation not mean anything to you that reads this, it is likely that you are not a victim of "vicious" pronunciation. Perhaps you have been troubled with that malady in the past, and it is more than likely that your recovery is due to properly prescribed doses of the dictionary.

The dictionary is the only cure for a disorder of this nature. Even when administered in small doses it will correct bad spelling, improve your system of expression, and regulate a rundown feeling in your vocabulary. So if you are experiencing any of these ailments, go to Doctor Dictionary for treatment.

After you reach the point of realizing that you really need a dictionary, get the latest one, the New Universities Dictionary, with its enlarged vocabulary and its many new special features. It is authentic, authoritative—a splendid volume that you will be proud to own.

State to Keep Track of Its Orphan Wards

Springfield—By creating 12 districts in the state for the visitation of orphans in private homes, Roy James Battis, state superintendent of child welfare, is establishing a system of visitation which will keep the state to keep in close touch with each of its orphan wards.

Heretofore the work of visitation has been carried on by an overworked staff of visitors employed by the department, he said. Under the new plan every agency in the state, engaged in finding homes for children, will conduct its own inspection of the work done by the department, through a director for each of the twelve districts. The reports will be made on forms furnished by the department, which, through a card index system, will give the department a very complete history of the child, and record it to the child's progress in its new home.

"Under this system the visits will be much more frequent and more thorough than was possible under the old system, and visitors of the department will be free to inspect boarding homes for children, an activity that was almost impossible under the former plan," Battis declared.

Families taking children, with understanding that they will adopt them, will be given three times before adoption, once on delivery of the infant, once sixty days after, and once immediately prior to adoption.

The department intends to keep in very close touch with adoptions and assure itself that the move is wise before permitting a child to be adopted.

The new plan will cover foster homes in at least eighty-seven Illinois counties. It will be effective March 1.

The WELL DRESSED MAN

By BEAUNASH
Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

Lighten Up! Brighten Up!

Spring, like Christmas, is not so much a season as it is a feeling. According to practical reckoning, Springtime is when "a livelier iris changes on the burnished dove" and the rest of the frayed quotation that ends with love. According to astronomical reckoning, Spring begins on a fixed date, but The Well-Dressed Man sets his own date. He assumes his Spring turnout whenever he has wearied of Winter and seeks a refreshing, re-energizing change of spirit, as well as of clothes. For, and it is an oft-told tale which cannot be told too often, a sharper crease upon one's trousers puts a keener edge upon one's confidence. A smarter cut to one's coat means a spryer step to one's carriage. A glossier glimmer to one's hat imparts a brighter lustre to the eye. A Spring-like shade to the gloves lends more assurance to the hand when it is bared to shake another's. "With mallet toward all; with charity for none," is the un-Lincolnesque attitude of the world as it turns contemptuously aside from those who do not make the most of their opportunities and obligations.

Acquire your Spring clothes early, if you have not already done so. Do not wait until the weather fogs you into taking off bulky garments. Lighten up in the weight; brighten up in the weave. This is going to be a season of cheer, character and contrast. Americans, having learned how to use colors engagingly and effectively, how to offset or harmonize them; how to select one governing shade and make every detail of dress conform to it, they will go in for the boldest of effects this Spring.

The double-breasted coat—the Englishman terms it his "reefer"—has been edging into vogue during the last year. This season is the especially preferred by young men who like its jaunty air of devil-may-care and the fact that it both sets up and sets off the figure as no single-breasted model can. The style, portrayed in the accompanying sketch, is smart and youthful-looking. There are two or three buttons, only two being used. The shoulders are broad, but the garment is kept trim over the hips, both contributing to lend an upstanding, athletic appearance.

Lapel's are wide, rolled and peaked or semi-peaked. The collar-notch comes low. The back may have no vent, a centre vent or side vents. The pockets are flapped. The coat, quarter-lined, is round about 30 inches long. It should be rather waistly from the arm-pits down, for no double-breasted garment looks spruce unless it flexes to one's body lines. Always keep your coat buttoned. Open, it looks stodgy and shapeless.

CHICAGO STUDIO FOR MOOSE RADIO TO OPEN MONDAY

Garod Studio in Palmer House Affiliated with Moose.

By arrangement with the Garod Corporation the Loyal Order of Moose announces the completion of extensive preparations for the opening of a Chicago studio in the Palmer House, to be known as the Garod Studio of Radio Station WJJD.

Although the task of erecting thirty-five miles of specially constructed poles, the building of cross-arms, the strung of over one hundred and fifty miles of broadcasting wires and telephone cables, connecting the new studio with the Mooseheart station has been completed by the Western Union organization, actual broadcasting will not be begun until Monday, March 9th.

In the meantime elaborate preparations are under way to celebrate the formal opening with a program of unusual entertainment which it is expected will be unique in the annals of radio broadcasting.

The opening will be signalized by a banquet which will be held in the Victorian room of the Palmer House on the night of the opening which will be attended by about one hundred persons prominent in civic, theater and radio circles. Jack Nelson, managing director and announcer, will affiliate as master of ceremonies.

Mr. Nelson states that he will have the unique pleasure, on that occasion, of introducing and presenting all of his distinguished contemporaries in Chicago. It is Mr. Wilson's opinion that seldom if ever before will there have been assembled so varied and renowned an aggregation of radio luminaries under one roof to be heard through the same microphone on one evening.

The following directors and announcers, and their talented protégés, will attend: Charles E. Epstein, owner-director of WTB; Bob Boniel, "The Voice of the Great Lakes," i. e., WEBH George Hay, the solemn old judge of WLS; Wilson J. Weatherby of KYW; Jerry Sullivan of WQJ; "Chicago Wags" Charles Gabriel and Queen Bryan, the famous WGN team, and last but least, Miss Judith Waller of WMAQ.

In addition to the radio stars who have accepted invitations, Secretary of Labor James J. Davis will attend, and it is not unlikely that many of Chicago's prominent men will accept the invitations that have been extended to them to participate in WJJD's "open house."

Among those expected are Mayor William E. Dever and his official family, Mr. Potter Palmer, and the leading artists of the opera and the theater who will be in Chicago on Monday, March 9.

Arrangements have been made to film the colorful event and to photograph the artists and other guests of WJJD for the news-reels. Similar arrangements are being made to take motion pictures of Charlie Straight's Orchestra at the Rendezvous, together with their entertainers all of which will be broadcasted through WJJD by

YOU POOR KID, WHY ARE YOU SO SKINNY?

Don't your mother know that Cod Liver Oil will put pounds of good healthy flesh on your bones in just a few weeks?

Tell her every druggist has it in sugar-coated tablet form now so that you won't have to take the nasty, fishy-tasting oil that is apt to upset your delicate stomach.

Tell her that McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets are chock-full of vitalizing vitamins and are the greatest flesh producers and health builders she can find.

One sickly thin kid, age 9, gained 12 pounds in 7 months.

She must ask Rowland's Pharmacy, Dixon & Rochelle, or any good druggist for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—the original and genuine—60 tablets—60 cents—as pleasant to take as candy—Adv.

AILMENTS OF YOUNG GIRLS

Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound School Teacher's Experience

Evanston, Wyoming.—"A few years ago I had troubles every month such as girls often have, and would suffer awfully every time. I was teaching school and it made it hard for me as I had to go to bed for two or three days. One day my mother suggested that I take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and it did wonders for me. In the course of a year I married and after my first baby was born I got up too soon and it caused a dislocation. This troubled me so that I could hardly walk or do my housework. I knew what the Vegetable Compound did for me before so I took it again. It strengthened me and now I have five little kiddies. The eldest is six, the baby is five months old and I have twin boys three years old and a boy of five years. I do all my own housework, washing and ironing, and I never feel better in my life. I owe my health to your wonderful medicine."—Mrs. VERBENA CARPENTER, 127 2nd Avenue, Evanston, Wyoming.

life of Christian experience. God has set a lamp to guide the feet of his disciples, it is the lamp of Faith. We cannot know where God will lead. The faithful disciple is glad to know "one step" and will not ask to see "the distant scene."

"And that is faith, to do God's will here and now, quietly leaving the results to him. Faith is not concerned with the entire chain; its devoted attention is fixed upon the immediate link. Faith leaves something to the Lord; it obeys his immediate command and leaves to him direction and destiny."

PRAYER—Give us, O God, faith to follow in the way Christ has led. Help us to lay aside all that hinders our free Christian living. May we rejoice as children of the morning, with bright faces and joyful hearts.
